The Unofficial Guide to Becoming an Accredited ACH Professional (AAP)

Congratulations! The fact that you are reading this document means that you are interested in investing in your professional growth. This “Unofficial Guide” was developed because every year we are asked the same question:

“What should I do to prepare for the AAP Exam?”

Each individual will approach their AAP Exam preparation a bit differently based on their past education and work experience. Taking an AAP Prep Course alone is not sufficient to prepare for the AAP Exam; additional payments training are also required.

The following sample list provides an overview of what preparing for the AAP Exam looks like and will help AAP Prep Candidates to develop their personal plan. Training dates, recommended resources and pricing follow on page two to help with budget as well.

1. Set your goal to earn your AAP Certification. The exam is offered annually during an October test window.

2. Determine when you will sit for the AAP Exam and develop a learning plan.

   Two Year Plan - consider a two year plan, taking the exam in 2022, if you are new to ACH or have taken very limited education.

   One Year Plan - Consider a one year plan, taking the exam this year, if you have consumed ACH foundational training and have a good understanding to the payment system participants, how the ACH transactions move and the various ACH applications (Standard Entry Class Codes.)

3. Based on your individual plan, register for training at https://www.theclearinghouse.org/payments-services/education. Members of The Clearing House Payments Authority are able to take all TCHPA presented webinars (scheduled and On Demand) and in person workshops at no additional charge.

5. Attend the AAP Prep Talk: Steps to Preparing for the 2021 Accredited ACH Professional (AAP) Exam webinar and receive:
   - 20-Week Guided Reading for AAP Study
   - Flash Card Templates for self-study

6. Register to take the AAP Exam with NACHA and receive the 2021 Accredited ACH Professional Handbook. www.nacha.org. Note: If you are member of a Regional Payment Association you will need to obtain the Membership Discount Code (MDC) to receive member registration rates.

7. Receive confirmation letter from NACHA and instructions to schedule AAP Exam.

8. Create your individual study schedule. See recommendations on page 2 of this PDF.

9. Connect with other AAP Prep Candidates and form a study group/get a study buddy.

10. Earn your AAP and be recognized for your expertise!
